

MORNING APPEAL

TUESDAY.....JUNE 13

THE JOHNSON CASE.

Testimony for the Railroad Introduced Yesterday.

The defense in the Johnson case had their innings yesterday morning. The Southern Pacific attorneys came into court with a regular machine shop. They had all kinds of check valves, injectors, washers, bolts, screws and monkey wrenches, also the identical check valve used on engine 1266 on the day of the accident.

The time keeper was the first witness, but his evidence was immaterial and he was withdrawn from the present.

A. T. Clippinger, general foreman of the Wadsworth shop, exhibited the check valve of 1266 and explained its workings to the jury. He saw the check valve taken off the engine and identified the one in court as the one, and the defense that the valve in question was in all respect as good as a new valve. A new valve was exhibited in court for comparison.

The trouble with the valve was too much lift, but this had been remedied by a washer.

The witness explained to the jury all the intricacies of a locomotive, occasionally having recourse to a large diagram of the workings parts of a ten wheel locomotive, which hung on the wall along side the witness. The witness continued on the stand during the afternoon.

THE TELEPHONE.

Hey Trommer.

Ah there!

A—Wasn't that deal Clarke gave you in the U. S. Court a trifle unkind.

T—Yes, you bet it gave me an awful shock. Just as I was fussing about the case and had all the spectators believing I was the big drum Major of the thing, up jumps that cussed Clarke and asks if I was an attorney in the case.

A—Then what?

T—Then up jumps that infernal Wines and said I wasn't. I wish people would quit calling my bluffs.

Hello, Sweeney.

Hello.

A—What are you fixing up the "Old Corner" for?

S—I intend to make it a Salvation Army Barracks. Ed. Reynolds is in. He beats the big drum. Jack Wall blows the big horn and I will do the singing. The first place we'll try to convert will be the APPEAL office.

Hello Purcell.

Hello.

A—They say you did that rock-away up in great shape Sunday.

P—Yes it was knocked into kindling wood. I wish I could have smashed Dunn up the same way.

It now transpires that the poisoned wheat spread in the vicinity of Nob Hill, did kill five chickens belonging to one person, but it didn't happen to be the chickens for which the wheat was intended. The chickens that got out first in the morning got the death dealing wheat. It's the early bird that catches the worm.

THE KEELEY MEETING.

It Was a Success and Carson Will Get the Location.

There was a fair crowd at the Keeley meeting last evening. T. R. Hofer was elected chairman and Dorsey Noteware, Secretary. Mr. Noteware reported that the following shares had been taken:

H. M. Yerington 10, B. & E. Bank 10, Dr. Lee 8, Will Taylor 5, George Thaxter 4, Dr. Fox 2, C. A. Withers 2, Cagwin & Noteware 2, Raycraft Bros 2, Mrs. C. A. Davis 2, Gilbert Briggs 2, T. R. Messrs. Noteware, Sweeney and Anderson were appointed a committee to solicit the balance of the stock.

Mr. Warren Noteware and John Sweeney told of their experience at Las Gatos, and explained that the management of the institution wanted stock held here to secure the moral support of the citizens, who would see that the patients were not allowed to secure liquor secretly, etc. Mr. Sweeney proposes to call on all the saloon keepers and ask them to sign a paper agreeing to sell no liquor to Keeley patients.

The Secretary reported that there were several others who had decided to take some stock and they would know just how much today. Adjourned until this evening.

The following telegram was read:

Hon. Evan Williams or H. M. Yerington, Carson, Nev.

"State at your meeting to-night for me that we want the moral support and co-operation of your people and believe this can best be obtained by mutual interest. I have no doubt of the financial success and will personally agree to refund to any dissatisfied subscriber at the expiration of one year his money and take back his stock. We are bringing to Carson the greatest medical discovery of the age and the institute will be permanent."

W. C. WATSON.

Mr. Watson is a man thoroughly reliable, as both of the above named gentlemen know.

SONTAG CAPTURED.

Mortally Wounded at Visalia—Evans Still at Large.

Visalia, Cal., June 12—United States Marshal Gard and his deputies, Hi Dapelle, Deputy Sheriff of Fresno county, Alfred Jackson and an officer from Nevada and Tom Burns, who was with Black at Camp Badger when he was shot, did good work last night seventeen miles East of here. Sontag was shot in the right shoulder and the shot possibly entered his breast. Evans started for a mill near there and the ground was bloody where he stopped. His two guns he left lying there and his hat, all covered with blood. Sontag lay behind a stack of hay all night, and the posse found him there. Gard and party were camped on the hillside waiting for daylight, to see if they made any move. Sontag spit blood all night. There is a wound on his forehead and each side of his nose. He claimed that he shot himself these last three wounds, though this is denied.

Evans tracks showed that he started toward Visalia and his house will be watched day and night. Being without arms or ammunition and undoubtedly wounded, and his partner in crime captured, he must give up pretty soon. Sontag talks freely, saying that the jig is up, and he cares not for the future. It is possible that Sontag will recover from his wounds, the doctor thinks, though he expresses no decided opinion.

Sontag denies that he and Evans were at Visalia a week ago Wednesday. He says they were here two weeks ago. He admits that they shot Black at Camp Badger. He says, when he was shot last night, that he thought he was mortally wounded, and asked Evans to shoot him and then make his escape. When Sontag was found this morning he was covered with straw which he had pulled out of a stack. His beard was matted with blood and dirt.

A reporter asked him if he had any word to send to friends. He replied: "I have no friends; no place."

In a sack the desperadoes had with them were bread and jelly.

Mrs. Evans and daughter Eva called at the jail an hour after Sontag was brought in. Eva cried bitterly, but Mrs. Evans looked determined and composed.

The Gardnerville Ball.

On Saturday night the Chosen Friends celebrated their first anniversary by a grand ball. Valhalla Hall was comfortably filled, there being about seventy couple present, about one-third of whom were from Carson. The grand march commenced at 8:30 p. m. and the grand finale at 5 o'clock a. m.

A jollier or more sociable crowd never assembled. Everyone present was a committee of one to look after every other one and see that there were no wall flowers. The only thing that happened to jar the friendship between the Chosen Friends and the APPEAL man, (who is everybody's friend) was the disappearance of his hat, that he won on the election last Fall. The music by Taylor & Frisbie's orchestra was first-class and commented on by all. The supper was something to be remembered. The absence of napkins being the only fault. Lemonade and butter milk were plentiful and free to all. In fact the whole affair was a success from start to finish. The APPEAL extends the hand of friendship to the Chosen Friends of East Fork and congratulates them on their first anniversary.
